Betty Hill's "Star Map"

September 19, 1961: In the White Mountains of New Hampshire, something happened to Betty and Barney Hill that would change their lives forever...

While driving south on U.S. Route 3 to their home in Portsmouth, New Hampshire, the Hills observed a huge, silent UFO hovering in the air above the road. After departing the encounter area the Hills became aware that they were 35 miles south of Lincoln - and they could not account for a two-hour period of "missing time". They reported the UFO sighting to Pease Air Force Base and it became part of the Air Force' official Project Blue Book record. Under separate hypnotic regression, Betty and Barney Hill revealed details of an alleged abduction by extraterrestrial beings. This was the first widely publicized UFO abduction report. Their claim generated much interest in the scientific community as it was supported by collaborating evidence. The Hill's UFO encounter has become a vital part in the public's consciousness regarding the UFO phenomenon.
